- ▶ Crystals been used for ages to heal ailments, and they're now making their way into our beauty routines.
- ▶ BASICALLY, crystals work by increasing positive, healing energy and drawing out negative energy from the body. Based on the idea that any physical manifestation of an ailment starts with disharmony in energy, the idea of using crystals to get your body back in the flow would also produce positive results for the skin along with the boost of good vibes.
- ▶ Each crystal has a unique vibration which influences the unique vibrations or patterns or vibes within your own body. There are few crystals which posses energetic vibrations that help you in achieving a more beautiful complexion or banish lingering break-outs for once and for all.
- ▶ We use a crystal-infused facial to harness their special healing powers for both mind, body and skin.
