Did you know :

As an adult the calcium absorption level decreases to a mere 20%

Osteoporosis : Silent Disease

'Every 5th woman has osteoporosis'

- The Indian Society for Bone Mineral Research vouches for that. As per their study, 20 per cent of Indian women over 40 suffer from osteoporosis or brittle bones, while another 65-70 per cent suffer from osteopenia or weak bones.
 - Indians genetically have weaker bones. Post menopausal changes in the levels of estrogens make women, particularly those over 40, more vulnerable as this hormone plays a pivotal role in bone formation. Deficiency of calcium in the bones leads to osteoporosis.
- TIMES OF INDIA- 27th Nov, 2003

Osteoporosis

- Estrogens hormone helps in calcium absorption
- Estrogens starts depleting due to the hormonal change
- Eventually calcium absorption level comes down, leads to calcium deficiency
- Calcium deficiency makes the bones brittle and leads to osteoporosis

Anemia

- Iron loss occurs due to the hormonal change
- if not replenished in adequate amount can lead to iron deficiency
- Iron deficiency may lead to anemia
